

Call for Papers – NTF TestForum 2017 in Helsinki – please consider your paper now

This year, the event will take place 28 - 29 November in beautiful Helsinki, the capital of Finland – Land of a Thousand Lakes. Do not miss the opportunity, so please mark your calendar already now and help us exceed the number of attendees of about 70 test professionals in the last couple of years in both Tallinn, Malmö, Oslo and Vilnius.

NTF TestForum

The two-day NTF TestForum is the yearly major event for Test professionals in the Nordic Countries and Baltic States. The participants are in addition to you the industry's key persons as well as international vendors of test and measurement equipment and solutions. The TestForum events offer technically relevant presentations on methodologies, tools, modules/instruments, available technology and best practice. To achieve the most successful event, it is important that some of you will share your way of working with test, so please consider your contribution with a 20- to 25-minute presentation. You can find information about how you present your ideas about interesting technical topics and best practice and send in your first input before 16 June at this link:

About NTF

Nordic Test Forum (NTF) was established during TestForum 2001. A group from the Norwegian electronic industry had just completed a two-year project on Production Test, and the participants wanted to maintain the network. Besides, the British Industry Test Forum was present at the conference, and a similar organization could achieve the needs of the Nordic electronic industry.

The objective of NTF is to facilitate a forum where test engineers and other skilled personnel within test of electronic may exchange experiences, ideas and other knowledge with relevance to the technological field of test for the electronic industry in the Nordic Countries and Baltic States. Presently, the main field of interest for NTF is production test of printed circuit boards and systems, but we want to be open-minded.

The NTF board arranges open meetings with specific topics expected to be of interest for the members. In addition to these meetings, the board is also responsible for the planning of TestForum, an annual conference, usually held in November.

Membership of NTF is FREE of charge!

Are you involved in production test, validation test and/or inspection of electronics, and is your professional work related to activities in the Nordic and/or Baltic countries as a test professional, design engineer, manufacturer, supplier of solutions, consultant or similar? We encourage you to register as a member of Nordic Test Forum.
